SOUVENIR OF WILLIE.

Willie was a gentle lad.
General regrets
Were felt when one day Willie took
To smoking cigarettes.
Willie kept on pulling
Harder every day.
Slater took the coupons and
She put them all away.
Willie dear has left us;
'Twas a mournful shock.
Sister cashed the coupons in
And got a tinzel clock.
Now we gather 'round it
As the moments fly.
It is something lovely to Remember Willie by.
—Washington Star.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; unless it is prevented by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

THE Louisville Times headlines a bit of Russian news. "Romanoff Dynasty Tottering." Too much vodka, maybe.

KENTUCKY's reputation for open-handed hospitality is world-wide; but it remained for a Danville man to enforce it at the muzzle of a gun. A few days ago a gentleman from that city happened in the fashionable "Mecca" in Cincinnati, and his invitation to "have something" was for awhile promptly accepted by all who were there, and by all who came in; until finally there were few responses, for there are times when even a Cincinnati knows when he's got enough. At this juncture the Colonel whipped out a gun big enough to put Russia's Black Sea Fleet out of business, and now his invitations, emphasized by the Kentuckian's tickle of the trigger, and a gaze into the cavernous business end of the howitzer by the invited, were once more accepted with an alacrity that would have done credit to the "buns" at the Silver Moon. For awhile trade fairly boomed; but as the genial Colonel refused to allow any of his guests to depart, and as it was long after Lodge hours and many hill-toppers would find it difficult to make peace with their better halves, one of the barkeeps managed to telephone for the police. And the next morning it cost the Colonel an extra $50; but, lawsey! what a bunch of fun he had the night before!

SOME months ago the Washington authorities sent a Special Agent to Europe to investigate and report upon the immigration question, which is now the most serious problem that confronts the American people. The Government Agent reports that the Austro-Hungarian Government is fostering and encouraging the immigration to the United States of its people, and at the same time urging the emigrants not to become citizens of this country, but to get together all the money they can earn here and then return to their own country. In the fostering of this immigration it is charged that the Austro-Hungarian Government subsidizes one or more steamship lines with the result that they carry the emigrants to the United States at a notably low rate. By this means the Austro-Hungarian Government rids itself, temporarily, at least, of some residents who are not especially desirable, and many of this class succeed in landing in this country despite the rigidity of the immigration laws.

There are societies in this country whose members work in conjunction with the Austro-Hungarian Government, bringing all sorts of influence to bear to secure the landing of certain immigrants who come here. The situation presented is regarded by the immigration authorities as serious, although in the absence of legislation bearing directly upon it nothing can be done except to enforce strictly the law as it now stands.

In the light of these facts, isn't it quite time for Congress to assert itself by passing laws that will at once and forever prohibit the entry of such cattle into this country?

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms—DR. G. G. GREEN.

The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Boecher's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

That no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

Resigns His Important Position on Board of Underwriters

At a meeting of the Board of Underwriters yesterday, Mr. C. L. Sallee tendered his resignation as Local Board Inspector and Stamping Secretary, a position he has ably filled for the past 21 years.

Mr. Sallee is the best posted man in this city on insurance risks and rates and was the very person for the place, but owing to his increasing office business, and in order that he might devote his whole time to general law practice, he resigned the position.

The Local Board regretted the loss of Mr. Sallee. His past services were valued highly and as an earnest of their good opinion a vote of thanks was extended him.

The office is an important one. Each daily report and each account current of each company must pass through the Stamping Secretary's office and bear his stamp before the Company will accept it.

River News

The gage marks 12, and on a stand.

The Monongahela and Allegheny rivers are rising at upper points.

Many of the larger towboats have passed up with empties the past few days.

The Sprague and John A. Wood have gone South from Louisville with tows.

The Keystone State will be up tonight for Pittsburgh and the Henry M. Stanley for Pomeroy.

The Pittsburgh passenger traffic for June was a record breaker for that month. All of the boats have carried about up to the Government limit, and freight traffic was also good. River men are delighted at the way the water holds up at Pittsburgh and up-river points.

James Rees & Sons Co. of Pittsburgh will build for the Arkansas River Packet Company a new boat, to be known as the S. S. Brown, in honor of Captain Sam Brown of Pittsburgh. The boat will be 220 feet long, 44 feet beam and will have engines of 1,200 horse power. She will operate between Memphis and Vicksburg.

Captain Peter Sprague, the veteran towboat builder, died last week at his home in Pittsburgh. He designed and superintended the building of many of the largest and finest towboats in the marine service. The famous Sprague was the last boat he designed and superintended the building of, and she is the largest steel towboat in the world.

A few years ago gasoline and electric launches were rare novelties on big streams, but today the river fairly swarms with the mosquito craft. Launch parties and moonlight cruises have entirely supplanted the old rowboat rides, and it is probably due to this innovation that there are less of the whole pleasure parties being reaped in by the Grim Harvester, through the aid of the maddy Ohio.

The Resolute and Cruiser swapped tows of coal at Gallipoli, the Resolute coming on South and the Cruiser going back to Pittsburgh with empties.

The price paid by Captain Robert Corben for the Ripley ferry-boat, Proctor K. Smiley, was $4,000. Mr. Fleisher will probably engage in business at South Ripley.

All of the boats which have passed down with coal will turn back with empties from Louisville for headwaters. The larger boats on the lower rivers will take the tows to New Orleans and other destinations.

There is every prospect of a good packet stage of water along the Ohio river for several weeks to come. This condition of the river will allow of the packets running for several weeks at least as far up as Pittsburgh, which is hailed with delight by summer excursionists.

Pilots who run between Cincinnati, Pomeroy and Pittsburgh are complaining about the Government lights. They say they cannot be seen in several places on account of high weeds and brush until they get opposite to them. They believe the lighthouse keepers should clean the brush away.

Captain W. H. Daniel of Jasper, Ind., has written and will publish soon a book containing an account of his sixty years' experience as a steamboatman on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and their tributaries. He is over eighty-one years of age and was in his day one of the best known men on the river.

President Roosevelt has let it be known in unmistakable terms that contractors engaged on Government work will be expected to live up to the letter of their obligations and that Government officers who seek to hold contractors to their contracts and protect the Government from loss or poor work are to be commended and supported.

The first steamboat whistle of which there is any record was that used on the steamer Lexington. She was a sidewheeler, single engine boat, built at Pittsburgh for the Missouri river trade. When she turned her whistle loose and awakened the echoes down the Ohio Valley on her maiden trip some of the inhabitants took to the woods and others crowded the shores to view the wondrous sight of a steamboat with a whistle.

The June coal shipment was a record breaker. This was due to the remarkably good stage of water so late in the month. The rivermen, and especially those connected with the buying and selling of coal, are congratulating each other over this fortunate occurrence. Every craft that can be pressed into service is being sent to Pittsburgh, and the month of June, 1905, will have the distinction of being the June of greatest coal shipment.

The early risers who congregated about the corner of Second and Commerce were highly amused this morning in witnessing a set-to between a one-armed and one-legged man. While it lacked the merits of a Corbett-Fitzsimmons go, it was lively, nevertheless, while it lasted.

Ten events of 200 targets were shot for.

Among the noted shots taking part were Woolfolk Henderson of Lexington; Jake Gay of Clark; Quincy Ward and Thomas H. Clay of Bourbon and Walter G. Green of this city.

The winner of the Bluegrass championship was Mr. Green of Maysville, who made a score of 48 shots out of 50; second, Woolfolk Henderson of Lexington, 47 out of 50; highest average, Woolfolk Henderson of Lexington.

Mr. Green's prize for the championship was a handsome silver cup, valued at $50, and he also won a purse of $37.35 for his highest score in a minor event. The prize for the highest average was a handsome silver loving cup.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed 10% of his earnings. He must spend 90% in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by all Druggists.

DON'T BE SATISFIED

Why Be Content With Relief From Backache When a Maysville Woman Shows You the Cure

Don't be satisfied with relief. Brief freedom from backache. Reach the root of the trouble. Cure the cause, and backache disappears for good.

It can be done. Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures. Experiences of Maysville people prove this. Here's one Maysville case of it. Mrs. Lizzie Bridges, wife of Elmer Bridges, of 206 West Third street, Maysville, Ky., says: "In March, 1900, I gave a testimonial praising and recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, and in it I told how I learned the great value of this remedy. I had been troubled with a bad back and weak kidneys from girlhood, and in my efforts to find a cure I tried every medicine I could find but without benefit until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, prepared at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore. They proved just the remedy I needed, went right to the cause of the trouble and as a result brought relief that led me to testify in their favor. I have never been without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house since. Every spring I take a box whether symptoms of kidney trouble are apparent or not, and in this way keep the kidneys in good condition and guard against attacks of my old trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Received 109 applications for money orders.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Degman entertained with a delightful musicale Friday evening in honor of their guest, Mr. Clifford Martin. Mr. Martin is a fine musician, his naturally fine voice being improved by a six months stay in New York and a year in Europe under the best masters.

Mrs. Robert Girvin is a little proud, and she certainly has a right to be, of her record as dairy maid. During the month of June, after supplying her own table, she sold sixty-five pounds of as fine butter as ever was produced in the country. Mrs. Girvin milks but two cows, but they are surely ladies.

Mr. Clifford Martin left for his home in Cincinnati Saturday after a delightful two weeks visit at Maplewood and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Martin in Fleming county. Mr. Martin goes to St. Louis next week for another two weeks visit to friends, after which he goes to Los Angeles, Cal., to spend the balance of his vacation, returning in September to resume his duties as teacher of music and instrumental tuning at the Institution for the Blind at Louisville.

It is not often that an item from a country correspondent is worth repeating, or even remembering very long; but two facts connected with the Oriole Story sent in by this correspondent recently certainly are a pleasant sequel. Fact first—The boy that shot the bird was conscience stricken when he read the item. His only thought at the time was to show his marksmanship and test his gun. The lovely little songster, silhouetted against the sky, was a tempting target. To use his own words, "I never was so sorry for anything in my life as I thought of those helpless birds dying from thirst and starvation because of my thoughtless act. Please believe me, it was thoughtless, but I promise you one thing sure I'll never shoot a bird again as long as I live." Of course I apologized to the repentant boy for having indirectly called him a heathen. Fact second—A gentleman from a distant part of the county says, "Do you know that your 'Oriole Story' has saved the lives of lots of birds out our way." I did not "know," but I surely was glad.

The pleasure of a day's shopping in Maysville is denied many country women because the otherwise perfectly gentle driving horse is afraid of streetcars. One lady living a few miles out has hitherto been the proud possessor of a horse that seemed absolutely free from fear of anything, from a fluttering paper in the road to a railroad train. He seemingly had but two objects in life—one to munch hay and the other to get there when started. This lady could drive right down Second street and make her own purchases without any bother to male members of the family. One day last week, needing a pair of shoes, she drove up in front of Mr. W. H. Means's store and left a friend seated in the buggy while she made a satisfactory purchase. Re-entering the rig, she started down street, paying no attention whatever to a car coming up, when suddenly crack, crack, crack went torpedoes, crackers or something of the kind from the car track. The horse lifted its head, looked at the car, the fastide increasing as it came nearer. Then the fright that had been put up for years suddenly broke forth. He ran backwards, jumped and kicked up a big excitement all around him, especially to the two occupants of the buggy. Some gentlemen on the sidewalk tried to catch the bridle, but not until the Motorman stopped the car, thereby stopping the fusillade, did the frightened animal become quiet. As the lady drove out of town, the horse showed fright at every car passed, but no more fusillades being met the open country was reached in safety, while the lady wondered if now her lovely drives and quiet days of shopping in town were to be as few and far between as those of many of her neighbors.
